XIII. EVALUATION

i. Private association

Probable

Note

Although the name of the group is partly preserved, the main elements of the name (i.e. collective name followed by the formula hoi meta tinos) suggest a group of worshipers, who came together on the initiative of an individual. However, it remains uncertain whether the worshippers formed a formal and durable group or whether they formed an ad hoc group that commemorated their coming together by putting up a stele with a relief.
