III. DATE

i. Date(s)	69 - 79 AD
------------	------------

V. SOURCES

i. Source(s)	I.Fayoum I 87 (AD 69-79)
Note	Other publications: SB VIII 10167; IGR I 1120; P.Fay. p. 33, number 3.
Online Resources	I.Fayoum I 87 TM 41652
i.a. Source type(s)	Epigraphic source(s)
i.b. Document(s) typology & language/script	Dedication in Greek of a deipneterion presumably to be used by the group.
i.c. Physical format(s)	Stone lintel.
ii. Source(s) provenance	Inscription on lintel of the southeast building of the temple of Petesouchos and Pnepheros (as described by Grenfell, Hunt, and Hogarth in P.Fay. p. 33); found in situ.

VI. BUILT AND VISUAL SPACE

ii. References to buildings/objects	τὸ δειπνητήριον ἢ δειπνητήριον to deipneterion (l. 3), 'dining room'.
-------------------------------------	--

VII. ORGANIZATION

- | | |
|----------------|--|
| ii. Leadership | l. 4 contains a reference to a unnamed ἡγούμενος hegoumenos . |
|----------------|--|

X. ACTIVITIES

- | | |
|-------------------------|--|
| ii. Meetings and events | Presumably the deipneterion would have held celebratory functions and meetings. |
|-------------------------|--|

- | | |
|--------------------|--|
| iii. Worship | Dedication to Pnepheros and Petesouchos and the synnaoi theoi . |
| Deities worshipped | Pnepheros and Petesouchos |

XI. INTERACTION

- | | |
|----------------------|--|
| i. Local interaction | Relationship between local religious institution and this group. It seems possible that this group would have been seen dining/celebrating in this deipneterion . |
|----------------------|--|

XIII. EVALUATION

- | | |
|------------------------|--|
| i. Private association | Probable |
| Note | The text may relate to an association thanks to the reference to the hegoumenos in line 4. Based on the dedication to Pnepheros and Petesouchos this could be considered a religious association, but that does not mean the group could not have been organized around a common trade; without more information it is difficult to be certain. |
