XII. NOTES

i. Comments	For the date of the subscription list see now Badoud 2015, 242. The exact number of contributors is not known as the stele is partially preserved. Yet among a number of individual donors, three associations feature as contributors to building works in the sanctuary of Asklepios (see also CAPInv. 1129 ; CAPInv. 2000), all three of them raising in total 450
iii. Bibliography	Badoud, N. (2015), Le temps de Rhodes. Une chronologie des inscriptions de la cité fondée sur l'étude de ses institutions , (Vestigia 63): Munich. Fraser, P.M. and G.E. Bean 1(954), The Rhodian Peraea and islands : Oxford.

XIII. EVALUATION

i. Private association	Certain
------------------------	---------

Note

Despite the partly preservation of the name, the elements thiasitai and koinon as constituent parts of the name strongly support the private nature of the group. What remains uncertain is the internal organisation and durability of the group. However, the fact that the group collected money and contributed among other individuals and other associations to a common endeavour (i.e. building works in the sanctuary of Asklepios) indicates that this was an organised group.
