Note	See IX.ii: Gender, above.

XII. NOTES

i. Comments	The honorand Ariston, son of Ariston (Ariston I, to be distinguished from his homonymous son) is known as a very active member of the Bacchic thiasos (see CAPInv. 1186). He is called euergetes tou damou in I. Kallatis 40, as in some of the decrees of the thiasos . The fragmentary decree I. Kallatis 41 for the same Ariston I has οἱ θοινᾶται τῆς [- -], hoi thoinatai tas [- -]. It is highly probable that the thoinatai are those of Damater Chthonia .
