i.c. Physical format(s)	papyrus

VII. ORGANIZATION

iii. Members	Members appear to be defined as οἱ ἀπὸ τῆς ἱερᾶς συνόδου καὶ τοῦ Διονύσου ἱερωνίκαὶ κ[α]ὶ [ἀ]τελεῖς, hoi aso tes heiras synodou kai tou Dionysou hieronikai kai ateleis (P.Berl. Leihg. I 18 ll. 3-4).
ix. Privileges	Immune from taxation (ἀτελής, ateles)

IX. MEMBERSHIP

v. Relations	Heron has a sister, Hermitarion alias Sarapias, but she is apparently not a member of this association.
vi. Proper names and physical features	Heron, son of Hermanoubion, and grandson of Heron.

XI. INTERACTION

i. Local interaction	Difficult to say, but certainly related to status given that this document relates to an exchange between the local administration and the member of this association.

XII. NOTES

i. Comments	Heron, with his sister, owned c. 21 5/8 ar. (2 ar. of which Heron owned himself) of property in and near the village of Lagis. If the association here is the same as in CAPInv. 1912 then perhaps the group were based in Alexandria, then they simply moved around to participate in regional games as they saw fit. Members could own land in other parts of Egypt's chora, of course. (MG) This document is part of the archive of Isidoros, komogrammateus of Lagis and Trikomia: TM Arch ID 112

XIII. EVALUATION

i. Private association

Certain

Note

This appears to relate to a private association, but the members of these groups certainly enjoyed significant imperial privilege (as the Pap.Agon. papyri clearly illustrate).
