i.b. Document(s) typology & language/script	Greek. Honorary inscription for a benefactor of a koinon .
i.c. Physical format(s)	Marble stele, poorly preserved.
ii. Source(s) provenance	Thyssanous (Ortaca).

VI. BUILT AND VISUAL SPACE

ii. References to buildings/objects	Very fragmentary references to construction work (ll. 8-9, 11 ἐπισκευάζαι, episkeuaksai), perhaps funded or undertaken by the honorand (l. 10-11).
-------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

IX. MEMBERSHIP

ii. Gender	Men
iv. Status	The proposer of the decree has the ethnic Kyranaios. Foreigners could therefore be members of the group.

X. ACTIVITIES

i. Assemblies	The honorific decree points to regular assemblies and meetings.
iv. Honours/Other activities	Honours are awarded for the benefactor, perhaps including a crown.

XI. INTERACTION

i. Local interaction	The honoree does not have an ethnic identification and this suggests that he is probably a local man, (name missing) son of Philios.
----------------------	--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

XII. NOTES

i. Comments	The decree is dated by the mention of a priest, namely the eponymous priest of Halios whose name is unfortunately missing (Bresson 1991, 129). Decrees passed by associations in Rhodes are usually dated after the priest of Halios.
-------------	---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

XIII. EVALUATION

i. Private association	Certain
Note	The descriptive terminology and the activities of the association ensures its private character.
