|                   | Theophoric:                                                                                                                                                                     | Ποσειδανιασταί, Poseidaniastai - From Poseidon, written with a Doric spelling (Morelli, ibid. 46-52, 167-169). |
| Note              | The character of the association is greatly reminiscent of other associations described as κοινὸν, koinon , although the descriptive term has been omitted in this case. |                                                                                                                              |

|------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| i. Private association | Certain                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Note                   | The use of a theophoric as well as a heroic name element and the dedicatory-honourific context of the attested inscriptions make the private character of the association certain, although a descriptive term is omitted. |
