Author: STELLA SKALTSA

CAPInv. 86: noumeniastai

i.	Geographical area	Aegean Islands
ii.	Region	Euboea
iii.	Site	Chalkis

i.	Full name (original language)	νουμηνιασταί (IG XII.9 1151)
ii.	Full name (transliterated)	noumeniastai

i. Date(s)	iii BC

ii. Name elements	Cultic:	noumenia: new moon, the first day of the month (i.e. the sacred day of the association)

i.	Source(s)	IG XII.9 1151 (iii BC)
	Online Resources	IG XII.9 1151
i.a.	Source type(s)	Epigraphic source(s) i.b.	Document(s) typology & language/script	Funerary inscription in Greek for Demosthenes, son of Lysis, by the Noumeniastai.
i.c.	Physical format(s)	Pedimental stele (H. 54 x W. 28 x Th. 5 cm).

ii. References to buildings/objects

The association set up the stele (τὴν στήλην ἔστησαν, 1. 3).

viii. Obligations

It can be inferred by the nature of evidence (epitaph) that the association took care for the burial of members.

iv. Honours/Other activities

The Noumeniastai set up a funerary stele for Demosthenes. In other words they take provisions for the burial of Demosthenes, in all likelihood a member of the association.

According to SEG 50, 876 this is an honorary inscription. Nonetheless Demosthenes is described as i. Comments χρηστός (chrestos, 1. 2), an adjective referring to the deceased.

ii. Poland concordance Poland B 149A

i. Private association

Certain

Note

The name of the group (ending -istai) together with the fact that the Noumeniastai took care of the burial of the deceased as inferred by the erection of the funerary stele point towards the identification of this group as a private association.

