XII. NOTES

i. Comments	Based on the similarities of IG XII. 8 6 with SEG XVII 382 A (CAP Inv. 1589) and with a series of other Chian inscriptions, Robert convincingly argued that IG XII. 8 16 was of Chian origin. Furthermore, on the basis of SEG XVII 382 A he suggested the following restoration of ll. 1-2: [οἱ ναύκληροι καὶ οἱ ἐργαστὰι οἱ ἐπὶ τοῦ λιμένος] (see Robert 1929: 37). The inscription to my opinion can be dated by letter-forms to the i AD. The characteristic letter omega, as it is shown in the facsimile published by Cousin-Dürbach is very similar to the omega which occurs in a series of Chian inscriptions of the 1 c. A.D. (the so-called Cl. Metrodora's inscriptions, for which see Robert 1938: 128-34). One of the honorands is the nauarch Neileus son of Pamphilos, and adopted son of Neileus. The prosopographical identification suggested by Dunst (Dunst 1958: 185) of the here attested Neileus with the honorand [- -]λεῦς) in Robert 1929: 36 C (see CAP Inv. 1587) is tentative. A strong argument against this identification is that the person in IG XII. 8 16 is an adopted son of Neileus. He could well be a descendant of [- -]λεῦς). For the officers responsible for the administration of the agora see CAP Inv. 1587 (Comments).
